2018 Outdoors WA Symposium

Breaking the Barriers

Outdoors WA is excited to bring you Breaking the Barriers the 2018 Outdoors WA Symposium & Exhibition at Swan Valley Adventure Centre on Friday 1st June.

This years Symposium will be bigger and better than ever featuring a variety of great speakers covering topics on outdoor education, advocacy, outback survival, innovations, trails, mountain biking plus for the first time ever we are offering attendees a chance to take part in a hands on outdoor activity.

If you are an outdoor educator, training provider, tour operator, commercial provider, outdoor instructor or outdoor enthusiast the 2018 Outdoors WA Symposium is a must for you!

A/Prof. Tonia Gray

Outdoor Learning: Not new, just "newly important"

Outdoor learning is reclaiming its place in the contemporary education landscape as a potent pedagogical tool. Tonia will 'power-walk' us through 30 years of Outdoor Education, the rising status of outdoors women, and the valuable contribution of the outdoors to Australian education.

Bob Cooper

The Trilogy For Survival

You can not have an adventure without risk this "Trilogy" including knowledge reduces both fear and risk; life starts at the edge of your comfort zone. Bob has refined his survival skills over the past 30 years by learning from many traditional cultures in Australia and all over the world.

Tanya Dupagne

Stories of Success from Camp Kulin

Tanya Dupagne received the 2017 AgriFutures Rural Women's Award for her program supporting regional WA women to enhance their leadership skills. Tanya will share Camp Kulin's innovative programs and initiatives with us and the positive effect they've had on her community.
